

DOWNTOWN MARKHAM Congratulates the New CITY of Markham

Canada's largest town is now Canada's newest city, and Downtown Markham is proud to be a part of this change!

Canada's largest town becomes Canada's newest City on Canada Day! Already Canada's 16th largest municipality and one of the fastest growing communities in the Greater Toronto Area, Markham has more than 300,000 residents. The formal name change will be effective after July 1st, the change was voted upon during a council meeting in late May.

"On behalf of The Remington Group, and Downtown Markham I would like to congratulate the Mayor, Council and all residents on your change from town to city. Downtown Markham is excited to be at the core of this new city, bringing culture, entertainment, shopping and dining into what is already a great area to live and work," Christopher Bratty, President, Land Development and Investments, The Remington Group.

To share in the excitement of the City Designation, The Remington Group will be donating $10,000 to Markham's Canada Day celebrations, which will also include the City designation ceremony.

"Markham's move to City status is a significant milestone for our thriving community," said Mayor Frank Scarpitti. "We are a leader in business, in culture and heritage, and delivering service excellence, with a Greenprint plan to chart a sustainable future. I'm pleased we will commemorate our new city designation on Canada Day, a day that brings together our residents in celebration."

Downtown Markham boasts unprecedented amenities and structural developments for its current and future residents and visitors. In April, Downtown Markham received recognition by the BILD Awards being named, "Places to Grow Community of the Year". As Downtown Markham's 243-acre development grows 15,000 residents will call the space home, and more than 16,000 people will be working in the core.
